

Face Coverings in Fire Stations:

Washington State L&I has issued new requirements for the use of face coverings in the workplace. This includes inside fire stations. Below are some links to reference materials from the Governor's Office and L&I.

Based on these new requirements the Snohomish County COVID-19 Procedure Manual has been updated and attached along with this document. Chief McMahan is in contact with L&I to discuss the possibility of gaining variances for fire stations and will provide further details in this Thursdays Meeting. The initial response from L&I is that each fire station will need to be evaluated on an individual basis. Dr. Spitters guidance is that all fire and EMS providers follow the Governors orders according to L&I.
